TRIBUTE

Paid to Kind and Devoted Wife.

Discourse of Rev. Dr. E. L. Rexford

Was Most Impressive.

The discourse of Rev. Dr. E. L

Rexford at the funeral of Prof. Elias Fraunfelter Thursday, was one of the most impressive ever heard in

In closing he paid this beautiful "Does death end all? No. Our brother still lives. He will continue to live and reign in our lives and in spotless purity he dwells with the angels in heaven. If death ends all, why did God plant within a desire for a higher sphere? Why did he decorate the heavens with stars just out of reach? Why cover the valley and hillside with flowers for a day?

Such words as mother, home, happiness, love and fidelity are immortal and the mind that exercise them is none the less so. The love, patience and fidelity of this consecrated wife to her husband during the long, weary hours of pain and anguish through which he passed are immortal principles that will never die. Let's not think of this world as the best that God could produce, but let's think of it as the vestibule of a more beautiful and resplendent world, in which the sacred memories and precious principles of our brother and his devoted wife and their immortal spirits shall be reunited and where in peace they will dwell together forever."
